Organic Cotton covers of deluxe pillows are pure and natural. Throughout its four thousand year history, cotton had always been grown organically. However, as a result of the development of pesticides and chemical fertilizers about 50 years ago, the cultivation of cotton changed dramatically. Today the cotton crops accounts for 25% of all pesticides used for agriculture purpose.

We feel that it is time for redefining the “conventionally grown” 50 year old definition cotton by going back to the organic farming methods that used in its cultivation for the first 3 millennia of its history.

We are working actively to promote the growth of usage of Organic Cotton.

Organic Cotton is 100% made from natural field and environmental friendly.
